

WAR WITH PETTICOATS.

Constable Zent and Marshal Blankenship Have an Unruly Captive.

FRANCESCA FLORES IN JAIL.

She Gave the Officers Considerable Trouble First, However.

Bailed Out Last Night by Her Mongolian Lover, Who Put Up Twenty-Nine Dollars Cash.

Francesca Flores is in jail again. Francesca is the Mexican damsel of approachable virtue who gave Constable Zent and Marshal Blankenship so much trouble the other day, and the public such a lively exhibition of that portion of female apparel usually mentioned in a whisper. On the last occasion mentioned the woman was arrested in a beastly state of intoxication, and gave the officers a tussle out of the every-day order before she was placed in durango vile. Recorder Schwartz fined her $10, which was paid by a mongolian with whom the woman is supposed to have more or less intimate relations.

Yesterday Francesca was reported at police headquarters as being beastly drunk and off the reservation. A posse immediately started in pursuit and succeeded in overtaking the Amazon in the vicinity of Chinatown. A scuffle ensued, but when the authorities fetched out a lariat and announced their intention of tying her up and bringing her in as a beast of burden, the virago collapsed. She was fined $30 this trip and in default of the dinero locked up in the city bastille.

Late in the evening a hunch-back celestial put in an appearance and an animated conversation was carried on through the bars. The colloquy was mostly conducted in the Spanish and Spanish vernacular but an occasional stray shot that sounded like a double back-action buzz-saw when it strikes a pine knot, was hurled at the head of the incarcerated female. These were answered by terse pointed exclamations in Spanish, which being interpreted were found for publication in a family newspaper. The main point of controversy seemed to be the price of release and whenever the words tricentia pesos was shouted from the inside a very unpleasant grimace was echoed back. Thirty dollars is a pile of money and means a heap of fan-tan. This is how it evidently struck the mongolian lover, for he walked away leaving his innamorata pounding vigorously on the grating and yelling vociferously. Later on his stern heart relented, twenty-nine dollars were placed in the officers' hands, and the fraie creature given her freedom.

LOCAL BRIEFINGS.

Sayings and Doings in Phoenix and the Surrounding Country.

Encampment, I. O. O. F. tonight.

The levee fund should be contributed to liberally.

The grand jury venire was selected by the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon.

Several bands of sheep are en route to the city from Apache county.

The hotels are crowded to overflowing and have been so for three weeks.

Four very plain drunks were up before Recorder Schwartz yesterday. All went to jail.

A lost child was reported at police headquarters last evening, but was found an hour later.

Justice Huson fined John Avery $10 for disturbing the peace and making a general nuisance of himself.

Articles of incorporation of the Arizona Trust Co. have been filed with the secretary of the territory.

Subscriptions are being taken for building the much needed levee. Every one should do what they can.

Grant Bros. are in the city looking up matters pertaining to the grading of the Maricopa & Phoenix extension.

The popular Mills house is crowded with guests, nearly every room being occupied. Full hotels speak well for the city.

Mr. Barber, the evangelist who arrived in our city Sunday from the east, is conducting a most interesting meeting at the Christian church, southeast corner city hall plaza.

Undertaker W. H. Smith, received a new undertake wagon yesterday for the purpose of conveying bodies to and from his undertaking rooms for embalming. Also for delivering funeral supplies.

A party who has been operating about town for some time making presents of pretty gilded horseshoes, and later asking the loan of a two-bit piece, was nabbed yesterday and given seven days in the city jail. Horseshoes don't always fetch good luck.

A circular has just been issued from the headquarters of the department of Arizona, directing commissioners of subsistence in the department to call the attention of producers, so far as possible, to the fact that when potatoes and onions of proper quality can be procured in the vicinity of the posts, at reasonable prices, they will be purchased by the subsistence department in such quantities as may be required for issues and sales.

Sense in National Proverbs.

There is a deal of sound sense in the proverbs of a nation. Earl Russell defined a proverb as being the wit of one man and the wisdom of many, and the aptness of this is well shown in the following from the Spanish, "Since we cannot get what we like, let us like what we get." The thought is as old as the race of mankind, but ages passed before one man hit upon the happy expression of it. This saying, from the Chinese, is a whole homily on pride in one sentence, "When a tree is blown down, it shows that the branches are longer than the roots."

For a concise expression of the lofty aspirations of youth and the sober achievements of ripper years, take this sentence from Henry D. Thoreau, "The youth gets together his materials to build a bridge to the moon, or perchance a palace or temple on the earth, and at length the middle aged man concludes to build a woodshed with them."—B. A. Heydrick in Brains.

The Planchette.

The planchette was the popular craze in the year 1887 in Japan. The instrument used there consists of three pieces of bamboo of a specified length tied in the middle to form a tripod, over which is inverted a shallow circular tray of lacquered ware about a foot in diameter. The legs are 1 foot 6 inches, Japanese, in length. All present out their hands gently on the tray, and the cork, as the object is called, or corki san, san being honorific, is politely asked to answer the proposed questions by raising one leg for "yes" and another for "no." Or for "yes" by turning around, many such devices being used. The operation will be seen to be more closely allied to "table turning" than what we know as the planchette.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Instinct of the Messenger Pigeon.

Upon what the messenger pigeon's wonderful faculty of finding its way homeward over great distances depends, opinions differ. Some ascribe it to an exercise of highly developed intelligence, others to an almost inconceivable perfection of sight, and yet others to instinct or intuition. The fact of the matter is, it is one of those mysteries of nature that perhaps will never be revealed, and stands side by side with the action of the gillie or young salmon, which finds its way back unerringly to the same stream that it left nearly three years before as a tiny par.—Denver Republican.

Cigars a Foot Long.

The larger cigar actually smoked is by the better class of the Philippine Islanders, especially at Lozon—a place noted for the universal habit of smoking, practiced by all classes, ages and sexes. It is no uncommon thing to meet respectable islanders puffing away at cigars a foot in length and thick in proportion.—Boston Globe.

RAILROAD NEWS.

MR. N. K. MASTEN, PRESIDENT OF THE M. & P. IN THE CITY

A Special Car Bearing Several Prominent People—Looks Like the Road Would be Built.

Last evening a special car bearing Mr. N. K. Masten, president of the Maricopa and Phoenix railroad, also financial agent of the Southern Pacific, arrived in the city. Mr. Masten comes to attend the annual election of directors and officers of the road which takes place today and likewise, it is presumed, to look into that little matter of an extension which is being mooted on the streets. In connection with Mr. Masten's presence here, it might be mentioned that Grant Bros. the well-known railroad contractors are in the city and are doing some very mysterious figuring. Grant Bros. are busy men and do not spend much time running about the country on wildcat schemes. Wm. Hood, chief engineer of the Southern Pacific, who was out here some days ago, is also expected to return in about three weeks. Take it all in all, between the Mastens, the Crockers, Fillmores, Hoods and Grants, it looks as though something was about to be done. The Republican and the people hope so and will lend any support which comes in their way.

President Masten was accompanied here by Sidney M. Smith and wife; Pedro Wessel, who has spent some years railroad building in Chili; Miss Irene Masten and Miss Brown.

A Murderous Papago.

Sometime in December, a Papago Indian named Chiviah, brutally murdered a Pima at one of the villages near the Gila. Last week, United States Deputy Marshal B. B. DeNure and Henry Morgan, got wind of his whereabouts and a hot chase was given. The murderer carefully avoided and of the Indian towns or mining camps and finally succeeded in reaching the Sonora state line. At one time his pursuers were only a few miles behind.

Smuggled Opium Seized.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 18.—A special custom-house officer of San Francisco, who is traveling incognito, arrived here today and paid a visit to the Chinese store of Jim Sing, where he seized six packages of opium valued at nearly $1,000, and on which the duty had not been paid. No arrests were made, but it is anticipated that some will be tomorrow.

The officer said a large quantity of opium was being smuggled into the United States at the present time via British Columbia and his find today convinced him that he had discovered from which much of it is distributed.
